

ANCHORED!

A phrase we Sailors know very well in the Navy, and smile when it happens, is "Anchored ... Shift Colors"! Not too very long ago, I was aboard one of our great Navy ships that had to anchor out in waters away from land instead of mooring at the pier. During our navigation brief the day before, there was a hardy discussion about the swift currents we would soon encounter and how important it would be to ensure we had good and accurate anchorage so we wouldn't drift into the dangerous shoal waters nearby. The entire leadership and navigation team did a great job of planning this out, and as they did so, I reflected on how it indeed resembles life. That if we are not vigilant and wellanchored in our core values and firm beliefs, there truly are strong currents in society that can drift us into the dangerous shoal waters of life. For example, following the crowd or the "current" of society with fads or popular trends usually isn't the healthiest thing for us, our loved ones or even society as a whole. And yet let's be honest, it is oftentimes the easier path to take, because everyone else is doing it and we just want to "fit in." So please listen to me my great Shipmates; we really need to do everything we can to resist this very common temptation. If you think about it, most all of the incredible men & women of history, and even of our modern times, are those who did not and do not follow the unhealthy trends, but who lower their anchor soundly on the principles of good morals and values they know to be true. It can be a challenge to fight the currents at times, but the rewards are great, knowing that you are not following the crowd as it drifts to and fro, but are standing up for what is good and right, both for yourself as well as for others. May God bless you Shipmates and families as we all anchor ourselves in our Navy Core Values of Honor, Courage and Commitment, and that of the Golden Rule where we truly treat others how we ourselves would like to be treated!

Food 4 Thought: "If we are to go forward, we must go back and rediscover those precious values - that all reality hinges on moral foundations and that all reality has spiritual control."—Martin Luther King, Jr.

A Second Helping: "The world is a dangerous place to live, not because of the people who are evil, but because of the people who don't do anything about it."

—Albert Einstein

Dessert with a Smile: "No man has a good enough memory to make a successful liar." —Abraham Lincoln
